

TENBUSCH EQUIPMENT -- BACKSTOPS

Backstop design features

- Distributes forces over a large area
- Will not flex under a load
- Provides for easy alignment by using granular fill between the backstop and the shoring.

In the photo below the crew is concentrating on pushing pipe with little regard for the ground that they are pushing against. The backstop does not move and flex the way that a steel plate will.

